

latter two farms lie within an adjacent parish, that of Dickens Heath, but are within a few stones throws of both Tidbury Green sites. The Dickens Heath sites allow some 200 new homes, which are almost completed. Together with the 200 (approximate) new homes at Tidbury Green Farm means an additional 400 new homes in total, in an area with no shops and an almost full school. To allow another 200 new homes through development of the Lowbrook Farm application would only compound matters and double the size of a nice parished area.

Yours faithfully,
